Founded in 1953, Metropolitan Touring is one of Latin America's leading DMCs and a Virtuoso member. It has extensive experience in designing and operating tailor-made journeys in Ecuador and the Galapagos, where it pioneered expedition travel.
In the Galapagos, it offers its own products to explore the archipelago aboard the Isabela II and La Pinta yachts, as well as Finch Bay Eco Hotel, an especially interesting option for those who prefer to stay on land and for families.
In Quito, highlights include Casa Gangotena, a boutique hotel on Plaza San Francisco, and Mashpi Lodge, set within a 1,300-hectare rainforest reserve around three hours from Quito.
A proposition combining in-house operations, distinctive products and tailor-made programmes.

There are two Colombias. One is designed for tourists: prepared experiences, group menus and visits following a set script.
The other is the Colombia that is truly lived: the chef's family, the musician who plays out of passion, the owner of a coffee farm who personally welcomes you to his own table.
Auralis works exclusively with this second Colombia.
With 16 years of building local relationships, Auralis designs journeys based on first-hand destination knowledge and a trusted network of partners. Private transfers, personally selected accommodation and guides they have worked with for years are all part of an operation carefully managed down to the last detail.
A way to discover Colombia from the inside, with the reassurance of working with a local team that personally knows the people behind every experience.

El Otro Yucatán is a boutique DMC specialising in the Yucatan Peninsula, with a Slow Travel philosophy and journeys designed for clients looking for more than a conventional itinerary.
Its team personally knows the accommodation, vehicles, drivers and guides it works with, and oversees every detail of the operation to deliver a carefully crafted and personalised experience.
Its speciality is discovering lesser-known places and experiences away from the usual routes: more secluded cenotes, characterful haciendas, small communities, markets, colonial towns and cities, as well as less-visited archaeological sites.
A way to discover Yucatan with more time, depth and connection to the destination.

In Ménerbes, in the heart of the Luberon Regional Natural Park, Le Domaine du Fortin is a historic 17th-century residence transformed into a private luxury retreat, surrounded by gardens with exceptional views over the village and the Luberon mountains.

The property offers three spacious suites in the main house and an independent villa, with private garden and courtyard. Each space combines the character of a historic Provençal residence—period furniture, artworks and decorative objects—with modern comforts and technology.

The gardens and terraces invite guests to enjoy the tranquillity of Provence, while, on request, the property can also offer a culinary experience prepared with products from the region.

A unique property for those seeking privacy, authenticity and the charm of a more exclusive Provence.
